Rabbi Klibanoff's Message Rosh Hashanah 5772

This year, as a result of the Jewish leap year, Rosh Hashanah is late! This means that we have some time from the official end of summer to prepare for the upcoming Yomim Tovim. Our children have time to study in Yeshiva about the Shofar and the Lulav and Esrog. (If you remember, last September saw us have Labor Day on Monday followed by Rosh Hashanah on Wednesday night). We have time to catch our breath, so to say, before we tackle another holiday season.

The question that remains is the following. How do we really prepare to stand in front of our Maker in judgment? We all know what we are supposed to DO for the various holidays. We know how many meals to prepare, how many guests to have, how many outfits to wear, but do we know what we should feel on the exalted days? This is often the struggle of the non-persecuted Jew who has all sorts of autonomy in his life. Yes, we have pressures and commitments, but we don't have the types of fears that previous generations have had. We can sleep at night knowing that what we left the day before will be there the next morning. It is no wonder then that with all this free choice and alleged security we have trouble focusing on the true essence of these days ahead.

I would therefore suggest that each and every one of us take some steps to add meaning to this Yerach Ha'Eisanim. If we are keenly aware that there is an issue to begin with, then we are ahead of the game. If we realize that there is a disconnect between what we do and what we feel, then we can get to work. One can begin by taking a few precious moments for oneself to take the Machzor and review, in English, some or all of the prayers we will recite on Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. Imagine someone on trial for life that had an opportunity for a final statement to present his case in court. I don't think he would wing it. He might spend a few days beforehand rehearsing what he will say. Why should we be any different?

We can also prepare by asking ourselves honestly if we channel our efforts and our time for good causes that build and heal and support, or if we spend our time slandering, destroying and hurting others. Besides having to face our Lord in judgment, we have to face our neighbors, friends and family as well. It is not enough to ask Hashem to forgive us when there are so many others right next to us who need to be asked as well.

Let us hope that we all have a meaningful Yom Tov filled with joy and blessing. May 5772 be a year of prosperity, harmony and progress.

Sarah, Rachelli, Eliana, Gila, Yocheved, Adina and I all wish you a very happy and healthy New Year.

Kesivah V'Chasimah Tovah!

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

WELCOME

The JCAB voted for six new Trustees to join the existing Board on September 4. We welcome newly elected Trustees Sonya Begelman, Norman Brodsky, Martin Cohen, Jerrold Goldberg and Avi Shaul and re-elected Trustee Charlene Khaghan. Many thanks to retired Trustees Caryn Fisch, Neil Flomenbaum, Ira Gober, Ricky Magder and Alex Yusupov for their dedicated year of service.

SHABBAT

To reserve a Torah or Haftarah reading for the upcoming months, please speak to Rabbi Klibanoff, Cantor Weiss, Herschel Sennett or Sam Offir.

ROSH HASHANAH

Our Selichot services on Saturday night, September 24 will begin at 11 pm. Please refer to the Schedule of Services on page 3. This year, there will be an Adult's Learner Discussion Group on both days of Rosh Hashanah with Ed Karah and Ricky Magder at 10:45 am in the third classroom.

On both days of Rosh Hashanah, there will be supervised BABYSITTING and GROUPS beginning at 9:30 am for youngsters up to age 6. JUNIOR CONGREGATION for 6 to 12 year olds meets at 10:30 am in the Sukkah on both days.

You are encouraged to take advantage of these well-planned and supervised programs for your children and grandchildren; for their safety, we request your cooperation in overseeing their whereabouts throughout services. Please know where your children/grandchildren are, and check on children in their respective groups periodically.

Please join us for TASHLICH services on the first day of Rosh Hashanah, Thursday, September 29 at 5:00 pm by the boardwalk at Putnam Blvd.

YOM KIPPUR

Please refer to the Schedule of Services on page 3. BABYSITTING will be provided on Kol Nidre, Friday, September 17 from 6:15 pm until the conclusion of services. On Yom Kippur, there will be BABYSITTING, CHILDREN'S GROUPS and JUNIOR CONGREGATION following the same schedule as on Rosh Hashanah. BABYSITTING will also be available during Neilah services, beginning at 6:20 pm.

Lunch will be provided for youngsters on Yom Kippur at 12 noon. Parents are asked to please accompany their children.

SUKKOT

Prior to the holiday, please order your lulav and estrog sets. Murray Voroba will select, prepare and care for deluxe kosher sets which cost $150. Place your order with him (239-4705) by WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28.

Participate in the mitzvah of raising a sukkah! Join Men's Club and Sisterhood on Sunday morning, October 9, rain or shine, to put up roof greenery and decorate the sukkah. Members, friends, and Nursery School children are invited to join in! Fresh and artificial fruits and gourds, and colorful (and waterproof) decorations would be appreciated.

For Sukkot services, please refer to the schedule on page 3.

BABYSITTING will be offered on the first two days of Sukkot and on Shemini Atzeret.

The SISTERHOOD IRENE STEINBOCK ANNUAL CHILDREN'S SUKKAH PARTY will be held on Tuesday, October 18. All children in the community are invited to enjoy a pizza party and holiday program in our sukkah beginning at 4:30 pm.

SIMCHAT TORAH

Please refer to the Schedule of Services on page 4. On Thursday evening, October 20, we usher in Simchat Torah with Hakafot, lots of dancing, flags and candy for the children! On Friday, please join us for services followed by kiddush luncheon sponsored by our three Grooms of the Law Saul Goldberg, Alan Pines and Howard Schuldner.

YUWO

The Yeshiva University Women's Organization Annual Dinner Gala will be held on Monday evening, December 5 at Avery Fisher Hall featuring Madam Butterfly. For ticket info, please contact Bea Peyser at 239.2433.

We Welcome You

We are delighted to have you join us this year. To make our services as meaningful, enjoyable and spiritual as possible, we ask your cooperation in the following matters:

- Decorum: Thank you to our volunteer ushers whose responsibility is to maintain the proper mood of the holidays in shul. Please respect every congregant's right to a quiet sanctuary for prayer. Speak briefly and quietly to your neighbors, and encourage children to join special groups and services.
- Security: In compliance with NCPD recommendations, please show your seating cards for identification. We need your assistance in maintaining vigilance and alertness; you are our eyes and ears. Please notify security personnel or administrators if you perceive any suspicious behavior, activity or packages.
- Dress Code: We ask that men and boys wear yarmulkes for Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, and that married women wear hats or lacy doilies, available in the lobby.
- Yom Kippur Attire: Men may wear a white kittel (available at Judaica stores), and both men and women are encouraged to wear non-leather footwear.
- Honors & Aliyahs: If you have been assigned a particular honor, please make every effort to be on time and to be available to fulfill the honor to avoid disappointment.
- Machzorim: A page board on the bimah and frequent announcements will keep participants up to the minute on Artscroll prayer book readings in Hebrew and English. Adler books will be available for those who wish to use them.
- Elevator Operation: Please enter through the extreme right door in front of the synagogue, where an elevator attendant will assist with stops on each level of our synagogue.

YOM KIPPUR: THE QUINTESSENTIAL JEWISH DAY

Yom Kippur is the holiest day of the Jewish calendar. It is a day of abstinence, of prayer and meditation, of introspection, soul-searching and repentance. It is called the Sabbath of Sabbaths - the ultimate day of spirit and serenity. Jews dress in white (men usually wear a white robe called a "kitel" together with a white head covering during the synagogue service; women wear white blouses and/or skirts and no jewelry) as a sign of purity and as a sign of our mortality, for ultimately we are buried in white shrouds. The white garments are also a reminder of the costume of the High Priest worn on Yom Kippur during most of the Yom Kippur service in the Holy Temple in Jerusalem. The main service was conducted then and there with the High Priest wearing the four white garments - shirt, pants, belt and hat - without the four gold garments - the long coat, the breastplate, the head plate and the apron - that he ordinarily wore in performing his Temple duties. The gold garments are not worn on this day of asking forgiveness because they represent hubris, human majesty and are a potential reminder of the sin of the Golden Calf. Yom Kippur is a day of humility and a low and private profile. Fancy garments, especially gold garments, are really out of place and contrary to the prevailing spirit of this holy day.

On Yom Kippur, Jews abstain from doing any work, from eating and drinking, from marital relations, from wearing leather shoes and from washing one's body. Maimonides classifies these abstentions as forms of "rest," for Yom Kippur is the ultimate day of rest - the Sabbath of Sabbaths. We rest from the world and our ordinary necessities on this day. The day is marked with this atmosphere of serenity, coupled with a seriousness of purpose, though not with any tinge of sadness. For it is on this day that we have our sins erased and forgiven, and thus it is an occasion of joy and not one of sadness. We confess our sins in the prayer services of Yom Kippur nine times (including the afternoon Mincha prayer before Yom Kippur) and we beseech heavenly understanding of our frailties and weaknesses. We also pledge ourselves to try and improve and to become better Jews and finer human beings. However, all of these confessions refer only to sins between our Creator and us - the sins it is within the power of Yom Kippur to absolve. Yet, Yom Kippur does not absolve sins that were committed against our fellow human beings. Those sins are erased only when the wronged party forgives us our acts or statements.

Thus it is customary for Jews before the advent of the Yom Kippur day to seek out those who they may have possibly wronged during the course of the year and request their understanding and forgiveness. It is wrong for a Jew to withhold such forgiveness if sincerely asked to do so. Only if we are willing to forgive each other can we then, in good conscience, ask God to forgive our sins as well.

In the times of the Temple in Jerusalem, the afternoon of Yom Kippur was a time for matchmaking for those interested in finding proper mates. It was felt that the holiness of the day would be a positive influence on those involved and allow them to find their true physical and spiritual soul mates. The enemies of Israel always marked Yom Kippur as a special day of hatred towards the Jews. From the execution of Rabbi Akiva by the Romans on Yom Kippur in Caesarea in 139CE, to the Holocaust and to the Yom Kippur War of 1973, Yom Kippur carries stark memories for the people of Israel. These memories have also been woven into the prayers of the day. The Kol Nidrei prayer that introduces the Yom Kippur prayer services has overtones of the plight of the Jewish conversos of Spain after the expulsion of 1492. This prayer nullifies false vows and coerced undertakings and allows all of Israel, sinners and saints, to pray as one. There is perhaps no other day on the Jewish calendar that so unifies the Jewish people as Yom Kippur. It creates social amity, the repairing of relationships between human beings, service of God and a sense of personal immortality and connection with the generations past and future. Yom Kippur is the quintessential Jewish day, unmatched and not replicated by any other faith or nation in the world.

May you be inscribed in the book of life for a fulfilling & happy year.

2011 High Holiday Appeal

The mosaic star is made of many pieces, no two exactly alike. When set in place, the unique combination of shapes and colors is what makes the finished product so beautiful. So it is at our shul, where the people are the pieces that fit together make our congregation unique.

We need each JCAB member to play his/her part in finished mosaic that we call The JCAB. In this season of repentance, introspection, prayer and charity look to see where you fit in. A successful 2011 High Holiday Appeal campaign is vital. The funds raised will be applied to our regular operating expenses and to necessary capital and physical improvements to The JCAB. Your generous donations are greatly appreciated.

On behalf of The JCAB Board, I thank you for your support in the past, and look forward to your renewed participation this year through pledges in shul, by mail (PO Box 246, Atlantic Beach, NY 11509) or by email (jayneicab@optonline.net).

Gary Menachem,
High Holiday Appeal Chairman

JCAB MAILBAG

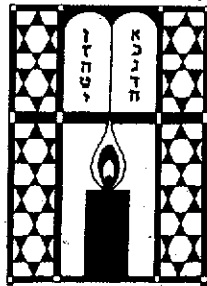

Many thanks for your kind expressions of sympathy upon the passing of my husband Jack Weissbluth; he was a caring and loving husband and father.

Sonia Weissbluth

On behalf of my family and myself, I would like to thank everyone for their kindness during this most unfortunate time in our lives. We appreciate the love and generosity of everyone.

Sarah Wax
